Our Town

The Supreme Court of the United States has upheld a three Judge federal court decision in East Texas and has compelled Governor Sterling to abandon his martial law reign in the oil fields. The decision made clear the principle of private property rights and gave relief due under the constitution of the United States frustrating an unwarranted invasion by the oil companies acting through a willing executive. Public sentiment has again been justified by the law and the facts and the rights of the men with their own property. The invasion of East Texas by Sterling and his army remained the last bid of an already discredited governor for some lasting memento of service to Texas. That now being swept away the future for Democracy's greatest straw man is just another bundle of hay.

A Texas legislature passed a law restricting cotton acreage in an attempt to control production and thereby raise the price. The Supreme Court held it unconstitutional. One district judge denounced it with all the vehemence possible to an opportune conscience. Big business and commercial minds held high carnival over the fallen attempt to aid the cotton farmer. A law to control production of oil remains unattacked. Property rights are upheld by the Supreme Court decision in abating martial law in East Texas. What is the difference in production control whether made by arms or the State? Presumably it is answered by organization on the one hand and the lack of it on the other. When agriculture becomes a major earning industry it will have its laws made to order.

There came to the desk of the editor this week an issue of the Mission Enterprise containing 50 pages. This paper celebrates Fiesta Day in Mission, the home of the citrus fruit industry of the Magic Valley of Texas. The edition is dedicated to Wm. M. Cobb, 70 year old secretary of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce. The Mission Enterprise is owned by Mr. Cobb and son, Moulton Cobb, who has been in charge of its publication since 1929. The edition is a credit to journalism in the Valley and the publishers have our sincere congratulations. Grape fruit and other citrus products constitute about 90 per cent of the annual income of Mission and a week is being set aside to celebrate the crop and its returns to business and growers at that place. Moulton Cobb, the publisher was formerly associated with his father at Cameron in the publication of the Cameron Enterprise. He is now a candidate for Congress for the seat of John N. Garner who is to become Vice President next March.

Jim Ferguson was right again. He told the people of Texas about the great deficit in the treasury of the state, what it was during the campaign and what it would be at this time. If the statement of the state auditor may be relied upon as having made sufficient "calculations" the Ferguson administration will inherit another big burden of deficit. It must be remembered the shortage will be much greater than is now indicated by the report. Fortunately for the people of Texas they have had the Fergusons at hand to lead them out of financial difficulties. Two years ago Texas elected a "great business man" to the office of Governor. Four years prior to that a young man without experience or ability achieved what was to be expected in the way of relieving tax burdens. If the Ferguson house saves the government again it should be proof enough even to the die hards that Texas needs them. We may keep them on the job several years and retire them on a pension for meritorious service rendered a needy population.

To Organize Classes In Extension Service

Dr. D. W. Votaw of the Southwest Texas State Teachers College will be at the Court House here Saturday, December 17 at 10 o'clock in the morning to organize extension center classes for the winter.

This announcement will be of interest to teachers in Milam county.

STATE AUDITOR FINDS BOND CLAIMS MADE BY MILAM CO IS CORRECT

R. U. Maddox, Auditor of Houston, with the Board of County and Road District Indebtedness was in Cameron the past week checking the report compiled by the County Judge Jeff T. Kemp and County Auditor, Giles L. Avriett, under the bond assumption bill.

Mr. Maddox made a detailed check of the receipts and disbursements of all bond issues where any of the proceeds were expended on State Highways, also the amounts spent on lateral roads. He accepted the report as compiled as correct in every detail as to the amounts specified and designated as spent on the highways, and it was the first county he had checked in the state where he failed to reduce the amount as totaled by the officials from ten to one hundred thousand dollars. He congratulated the officials on the report submitted.

Under the policy adopted by the Board of County and Road District Indebtedness the State will not assume payment of as great amount as spent on the Milam County Highways. The officials of the County merely compile the necessary data and the Board adopts a certain policy or basis to apply to all counties alike in the State.

LEGION TOY SHOW AT THEATRE ON SATURDAY

Stanley Swift, manager of the Milam Theatre, in co-operation with Edwin Hardy Post No. 9 American Legion will give the annual toy show Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Each child will be admitted to this show if they bring an acceptable toy to the show window. Teachers from the Ada Henderson school will be on duty at the doors of the show to examine and accept the toys. Parents are requested to see that their children bring toys that are acceptable and can be used by Santa Claus in bringing lots of joy to many children of Cameron. Last year many of the toys brought to the show could not be used, and the purpose of the show was defeated. The American Legion, Mr. Swift and other organizations put on this show to provide toys for many children who could not otherwise receive them, so it is hoped that all Cameron will co-operate with us and give us lots of nice toys for Santa to distribute at Christmas.

Mr. Swift has made a sacrifice in putting over this show for the kiddies of Cameron and he has been able to secure Booth Tarkington's "Penrod and Sam," a picture that will certainly be enjoyed by the children.

Legionnaires of Edwin Hardy Post will be on duty at the show and help the teachers take care of the crowd of small children. IN CHRISTMAS the whole Christian world prostrates itself in adoration around the crib of Bethlehem and rehearses in accents of love a history which precedes all time and will endure throughout eternity. ## Lady Took Cardui And Got Rid of Pain In Her Side

"Last summer, my health was bad, as I began taking Cardui," writes Mrs. E. E. Baughman, of Norman, Okla. "My mother had given me Cardui in girlhood, so naturally I turned to it when I felt I needed it. I felt run-down and a general weakness. I had had, dizzy headaches when everything would seem to dance before my eyes. My right side pained me so much, but after taking Cardui the pain has left me. I have taken several bottles of Cardui and have improved a great deal."

Cardui is sold at drug stores here.

Century Old Theories Exploded By Science

Startling Discoveries Reveal New and Amazing Facts About Disease

Human Body Composed of Only 16 Elements. Deficiency of Any of These Destroys Health.

Strange as it may seem, these wonderful bodies of ours consist of a very limited list of fundamental chemical elements. Contrary to age-old theories, it is now known that only eleven minerals and five gases are needed by Nature in building the strongest man or the most beautiful woman.

OUR BODIES ARE ROBBED

All of these essential Minerals and gases are present in natural foods but improper cooking and an unbalanced diet rob us of these vital elements. The system becomes charged with acid. Indigestion and Constipation follow. We become nervous and irritable; subject to headaches, fail to get the proper rest at night, become weak and listless and good health deserts us.

NATURE DEMANDS HELP

When any of the essential Minerals are deficient, Nature demands help. Harsh laxatives, "patent" medicines and "pain killers" won't do. You must feed into the body those missing elements that Nature demands. LEE'S MINERAL COMPOUND, the new scientific formula, contains a balanced supply of Minerals, in combination with vitamins and it is surprising how quickly the system responds to this Natural health building formula.

Make This 10 Day Test Convince Yourself!

Stop dosing yourself with "patent medicines," harsh purgatives, oils and cathartics for just 10 days. Go to your nearest Druggist and secure a bottle of LEE'S MINERAL COMPOUND. Take it regularly, and watch the results. You'll be amazed at the feeling of renewed strength and vigor that soon appears. No narcotics or alcohol to "boost you up" but a natural method of restoring health and energy.

the homes in the country and in the cities and towns must be sold to raise the 40 million dollars.

Our people send to Austin each year about 40 million dollars for school purposes. This is an addition to taxes collected in the various counties for school purposes. Your program does not include a correction of either of these evils.

I agree with your league that the fees of county officers and the expenses of the counties should be reduced. Some good can be accomplished along this line, but if all the county officers should serve without pay, the saving would be too small to notice if the Highway Commission is to continue taking from the people 40 million dollars each year for road construction.

The graft practiced in the collection of delinquent taxes should be suppressed, but a correction of this evil is not included in your program.

Your plan to reduce the tax rendition will necessitate a raise in the tax rate, and will be of no avail unless the expenses of government are reduced.

Yours truly,
J. K. FREEMAN.

Miss Mattie Kinard who has been conducting a knit shop in Bartlett this fall, has closed her shop for the season and will probably open up in a larger place later in the season. Miss Kinard will spend the holidays here with her mother, Mrs. Alie Kinard.

NCE more Jean read through the letter which had arrived to find her in a mood of despondency most unusual. Like a gleam of sunshine, it had brightened the gloomy prospect of a Christmas away from home. To be sure, living with one's step-aunt didn't make much of a home, but even that was better than the deserted campus.

And then had arrived this charming note from one of the university's most attractive graduates:

"My Dear Miss Gray:

"It will afford us the greatest possible pleasure to have you spend the holidays with us. We are entertaining most informally and will expect you Christmas eve.

"Cordially yours,
"MARJORIE HOLDEN."

"Most informally!" Jean's brow clouded.

"I—can't—go!" Jean winked back unaccustomed tears and stared hard at a picture on the wall in front of her. As her vision cleared she became aware that she was gazing at the group photograph taken after the last Dramatic society play. What fun she had! For one brief evening she had been a "star" and worn truly becoming clothes.

If only—Jean sat suddenly upright with eyes sparkling. "I'll go to Mrs. Holden's and wear those clothes!" she cried ecstatically. Jean's inspiration was born of the fact that the Dramatic society had issued a recent edict. Clothes worn in the annual plays were to be purchased and become the property of the organization and so be always available for future performances

Cary and Jean Lagged Far Behind the Others.

Jean was properly mistress and held the key to the wardrobe.

"If Mrs. Holden had not been abroad when we gave 'Nancy's English Cousin,' this little stunt might have been impossible," mused Jean as, the following day, she folded and packed the smart little serge she had worn in the third act. Three changes there had been, noted respectively in the stage directions as "a one-piece serge," "a simple party frock" and "a striking outdoor costume." Jean took all three.

But the following morning at the gay, holly-decked breakfast table Mrs. Holden unsuspectingly turned Jean's happiness to ashes. "My brother, Jean, who came after you had gone upstairs last night. Why, you know each other!"

"Of course, we know each other!" smiled a singularly attractive young man. I coached the play in which Miss Gray played a demure little English girl—and well do I remember her in the part!"

Yes, it seemed that Cary Endicott, who had made "Nancy's English Cousin" the success it had been, was Mrs. Holden's brother.

On one of the very last days of vacation the crowd set out on snowshoes across the hills. Cary had managed matters so that he and Jean lagged far behind. Suddenly, in a snowy but sheltered hollow, as the rest topped a distant summit and disappeared, Cary turned right about face and held out his arms. "Jean, darling, will you be my wife?"

Jean flushed furiously. "I—oh—why, how can you—after—after these clothes?"

Assistant Professor Endicott's face expressed nothing beyond utter mystification. Then he shook his head. "I'm afraid—maybe I'm dense, but—"

And Jean had to explain, her slim hands clutching themselves within the odd little English muff which was part of her "striking outdoor costume."

When she had finished Cary just stood for a moment regarding her ever so gently, ever so tenderly. Then, "Didn't you know, you funny girl, that men can live with clothes year in and year out and never notice them? It's the people that wear them that count."

And happy Jean, snuggling close in his arms, knew that he had spoken the truth.

THROAT AND RESPIRATORY INFECTIONS

IMMUNITY

Rhythmic Resume

You're used to germs you take about. To them you've grown immunity. But when you blow those same germs out

They may make sick the whole community; So if you would not scatter germ diseases

Be sure and cover up your sneezes.

In addition to the various vaccines against colds, pneumonia, etc. which have some effect if given properly early in the season, one can raise his immunity very much against all germ diseases by observing the following hygienic and dietetic methods:

Grade A milk, one pint to one quart per day for anyone especially children is a very valuable food and raises the resistance very much against diseases, especially the respiratory type which has been shown by experimental work at Columbia University. Those using milk in that amount had very much less respiratory infections.

Overeating of heavy foods like pork, sausage and pickles with no milk in the diet makes one more susceptible to such disease.

Plenty of fresh air, sunshine, moderate exercise with enough sleep in a well ventilated room are important factors. Cod Liver Oil Tablets or Cod Liver Oil in liquid form are helpful to weak children, building up the resistance and also building up the teeth and bones. Do not sit in a room too hot. The temperature should not be above 68 or 70. The atmosphere must not be so dry that you can feel it in your throat but should be moistened with a vessel containing water.

Do not get your feet wet nor sit in drafts. Bathe frequently in hot water following immediately with cold water and dry off with a good soft towel. Keep your feet warm and your head cool. Take deep breathing exercises and walk in the sunshine or outdoors every day.

William Cullen Bryant was a very sick and weakly baby. His father, Dr. Joseph Bryant had him bathed with warm water followed with cold water and rubbed every morning. He became strong and resistant to diseases. He lived to be 89 years of age and died from an accidental fall. Toughen yourself with hot and cold water just as a boy toughens his feet when he goes barefooted.

Keep all the eliminating functions of the body regular by a regular time habit for elimination. Drink a moderate amount of water. Do not take up one sided diets.

Patients who have had infectious diseases like flu, bronchitis, measles, diphtheria, etc., should rest in bed until the body is built back to a normal condition and remain under the

Black-Draught

Clears Up Sluggish,
Dull Feeling

"I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for constipation for a long time, and find it gives relief for this trouble," writes Mrs. Frank Champlin, of Wynne, Ark. "I think it is good for spells caused from gas on the stomach. If I get up in the morning feeling dull and sluggish, a dose of Black-Draught taken three times a day will cause the feeling to pass away, and in a day or two I feel like a new person. After many years of use we would not exchange Black-Draught for any medicine."

P. S.—If you have children, give them the new, pleasant-tasting SYRUP of Thedford's Black-Draught.

supervision of the family physician until entirely well. Many chronic diseases in the future life such as rheumatism, bright's disease, high blood pressure, etc. are caused by such childhood diseases that were not treated until all sources of infection were entirely removed. Don't forget this point. Don't resume active exercise very soon after any acute infectious disease. Exercise gradually. When one becomes short of breath on exercise, it means stop, go slow! A weak heart! Hot water, soap and sunshine are the best and cheapest germicides. Direct sunshine will kill the tubercle and typhoid germs in ten minutes.
